

Hans de Jong Partner

In his large fraud practice, Hans mainly handles economic criminal cases and criminal tax law cases. He counsels many companies in Mainport Rotterdam during criminal and administrative legal investigations in environmental and health and safety (large incidents) cases. He designs made-to-measure corporate procedures on how to deal with the relevant authorities; mapping out criminal liabilities, including those of corporate management.

Further more Hans is an expert in counselling and - if necessary - defending accountants and tax advisers as well as their firms in criminal matters occurring in their practices.

Hans' fraud practice also covers the Dutch Caribbean. He regularly acts as a criminal defence attorney in high profile corruption and tax fraud cases, mainly in Curaçao and Sint Maarten.

In addition, Hans traditionally handles road traffic cases, especially where professional drivers are accused of involuntary manslaughter.
